

Allison Transmission is Driving Transmission Technology™

Allison Transmission, Inc. is the premier global designer, developer and , manufacturer and distributor of medium- and heavy-duty automatic transmissions and hybrid propulsion systems. Our products are world-renowned for their reliability, durability and performance.

Savvy fleet owners, operators and managers know Allison fully automatic transmissions help make their trucks and drivers more productive. Route times are shortened. More deliveries are made. And drivers are less fatigued since there is no power interrupts to deal with and no clutch pedal to press. Bottom line: delivery costs are not only reduced, the cost of ownership is also reduced.

Allison fully automatic transmissions, with torque converter technology, provide superior vehicle performance, increased productivity, reduced driveline wear and tear and lower overall vehicle life cycle costs.

Our vision is to continue setting the standard for commercial-duty fully automatic transmissions and hybrid propulsion systems. WWe're dedicated to innovation, excellence and providing our customers with products and services that are second to none. The future is here and Allison is ready for it. We are Driving Transmission Technology.

For more information, visit our website: www.allisontransmission.com